

Customer Success Intern — Help Brands Grow with Xeno

About the Role

Are you someone who enjoys solving business problems and building strong client relationships? Want to work at the intersection of tech, marketing, and strategy? Xeno is looking for a Customer Success Intern who's excited to work on client growth strategies, support top retail brands, and kickstart their career in a high-growth SaaS environment.

About Xeno

Xeno (www.getxeno.com) is an AI-driven CRM company for large D2C brands and omnichannel retailers. Our portfolio includes some of the biggest names in retail — Shoppers Stop, Fabindia, Forever New, Taco Bell, Vero Moda, and Only.

Xeno enables large D2C brands and omnichannel retailers to engage their customers across eCommerce and physical stores. Riding the digital retail wave, we've seen 3x revenue growth in 2025.

What You'll Do

- Support the Customer Success team in driving strategic growth for our clients
 - Understand brand goals and help craft CRM strategies using Xeno's platform
 - Assist in campaign planning, execution, and performance tracking
 - Analyze data to generate insights that improve customer engagement
 - Be the voice of the customer internally — collaborate with product and tech teams

Who You Are

- B.Tech 2026 graduate or in final semester — Computer Science / IT mandatory
- Working knowledge of Excel / Google Sheets
- Strong communication and problem-solving skills
- Curious, self-driven, and comfortable taking ownership

- Prior internship or project experience in marketing, business strategy, or client-facing roles is a must

Why Join Us?

- Work with fast-growing D2C and retail brands
 - Learn how SaaS, CRM, and Customer Success teams drive real business impact
 - Direct mentorship from experienced team members
 - High chance of full-time conversion based on performance
